

Chad Mitchell And His Group Signed For 'Carnival' Concert

Mitchell . . . will perform at Winter Carnival concert.

Chad Mitchell and his group will highlight Winter Carnival Week with a concert February 18, Winter Carnival officials announced Wednesday.

MITCHELL COMES to the BYU campus after several years of touring the country performing at colleges and nightclubs, appearing in such places as Carnegie Hall, and making a goodwill tour for the State Department.

According to Sandy Kroes, co-chairman of Winter Carnival, the concert featuring the Chad Mitchell Group will be held in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom.

FOLLOWING the concert will be the semi-formal Winter Carnival Week Dance, to be held in the ballroom, Deseret Towers, the Richards Physical Education Bldg., and Cannon Center.

The following night, Saturday, the Winter Carnival Follies will be presented. It will include a talent show, a fashion show, and presentation of awards to Winter Carnival week winners in snow sculpture, skiing, and skating.

A CASUAL DANCE will follow the Follies.

Prior to the Mitchell concert will be such activities as the selection of the Winter Carnival King and Queen, an invitational ski meet involving other colleges, intramural skiing and skating, snow sculpture, and a skiing movie, Kroes said.

CHAD MITCHELL began his musical career when he was still in high school. "Pretty soon we were performing for women's clubs, Lion's Clubs and Rotary Clubs," he said of himself.

"High school was a happy time," he said, "probably my happiest. In my naivete, I knew little about the pain of growing up and becoming aware of life."

MITCHELL had scholarships to two colleges, one of which was Yale. However he chose a Navy scholarship to Stanford because it was closer to his home.

"In college, everything stopped. I wasn't interested any more, period," Mitchell said. "I had majored in engineering and when I switched to medicine I transferred to the University of Washington, but the change didn't work."

HE THEN took a music scholarship to Gonzaga University, and there a glee club director motivated him to organize the Chad Mitchell Trio.

"I am now a performer because I have something I want to say to people," Mitchell said. "I choose music because I'm best at it. If I couldn't express myself creatively, I don't think I'd be working."

TICKETS for the concert may be obtained by mailing a coupon to be published in Monday's Daily Universe. Coupons must be mailed and will not be accepted in any other way, Kroes said.

5 Tax Refunds Due to State Students

Students who work part-timers may have a return on their 1965 Federal income tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service, said Wednesday.

DISTRICT DIRECTOR of Internal Revenue Roland V. Wise explains that unmarried students who earn less than $900 will not owe any Federal income tax. They are entitled to claim the usual $600 personal exemption, plus a $300 minimum standard deduction.

Students are subject to the same Federal tax obligations as other taxpayers, and have no special exemption. They are required to file a tax return if their earnings are $600 or more. They should file a return in order to obtain a refund when earnings are less than $600 and taxes were withheld from wages by their employers.

STUDENTS must claim their own personal exemption when filing a tax return, Wise said. However, parents who furnish more than one-half the cost of support for their child who is a full-time student may also claim a dependency exemption for the child on their tax return, unless the child is married and filing a joint return with his (or her) spouse.

Chicago Law Scholarship Available for BYU Students

Applications for the annual BYU-University of Chicago Law Scholarship are now being accepted.

STEWART L. GROW, Director of the Institute of Government Studies at the University of Chicago, said applications should be in the form of a letter addressed to him, 285 Maester Bldg.

One of the scholarship, to be named by the Pre-Legal Committee of the University of Chicago, will be awarded to a student on scholarship to the University of Chicago Law School.

SCHOLARSHIP is renewed for the full three years of legal study if the recipient performs well, Dr. Grow said.

Students should include a statement of academic achievement and extra-curricular activities, he added.

The scholarship award will be made sometime in February.

DR. GROW said the scholarship was a technique used by the University of Chicago to choose students of high caliber. They choose a number of schools around the country and offer a scholarship to anyone the school decides should receive it.

BYU has been a part of the University of Chicago program for a number of years, he said, and has great success.

OVER THE YEARS, the BYU scholarship winners have distinguished themselves many times, he said.

Y Carnival Royalty Nominated

Couples competing for Winter Carnival Royalty will be selected by the studentbody on Feb. 10, according to Gary Pedersen and Dean Andersen co-chairmen for the event.

"WINTER OLYMPICS" the theme for the 1966 Winter Carnival was started Wednesday evening with an orientation period and meeting of the judges, for the contestants.

Winter Carnival contestants will be judged in couples this year. The couples will be judged in three areas, winter sports, dancing, and talent. The judges for the winter sports are Maxine Boumas and Earl Miller for dancing Boone Vernon and Benjamin De Hoyos; and talent will be judged by Myrel Cloward and Marie Webster.

FIRST JUDGES will take place Thursday from 7-9 p.m. Contestants will meet each one of the judges for three minutes, and be judged on their poise and personality.

After Thursday evening there will be a first elimination. The remaining contestants will then compete in skiing or skating.

The couples skiing will meet at the Wilkinson Center Feb. 5 at 7-8:45 a.m. and go to Timp Haven. They will be judged on two or three maneuvers of the American Ski Technique and free style skiing. Skating contestants will meet at Winter Gardens at 12:15 to be judged.

TALENT AND DANCING will be held on Feb. 7, from 7-9 p.m. in 347 and 357 of the Wilkinson Center. Contestants will be divided into two groups. Those who dance will be able to choose from the waltz, swing, fox trot, and Latin American dance. Each couple for the talent will have five minutes to perform.

DAILY UNIVERSE Draft Board To Receive Y Status Change Notices

Notices of status changes for BYU students, and reports on all new students enrolling for the Spring semester will be sent to draft boards of each state, according to Dr. Lynn Johnson, Selective Service adviser at BYU.

THE NOTICES will reflect any changes that may have occurred since the last notices were sent early in December, such as dropping below the 15 hour minimum, dropping out of school, academic warnings, or changes in academic status by either going on or off probation.

Students are urged to pick up their copy of these notices to make sure the information contained in them is accurate. These copies may be obtained at B-162 Snoot Administration Bldg.

DR. JOHNSON said that each student who is affected by the present draft regulations should be conscious of his own change in status.

He should report anything concerning his draft classification such as new marital status, pregnancy, or new children in the family, and cases of severe sickness and physical ailments.

THE STUDENT should fill out all the appropriate documentation with his letter, such as medical records, birth certificates and marriage certificates.

Johnson advised students to keep the board informed of their current addresses at all times. He said every 10 days are allowed for appeals from the time the board sends the classification. Any delay may be decisive.

HE ADDED that each student should make sure the board received the student's notice of the change of status. This may be done by going to the Admissions Office on Feb. 21.

Johnson also said students should investigate other military possibilities, such as AFROTC reserves and National Guard enlistments. This should be done directly with each representative to avoid misinformation, he continued. He mentioned that as of last week there were 30 vacancies with the Army Reserves.

DR. JOHNSON said that he will help the students on any questions or problems they may have. His office is in A-162 Snoot Administration Bldg. Delays may be costly, he added.

Sportswriting Positions Open

All students interested in writing sports for the Daily Universe may apply for the available openings by making appointments with Associate Sports Editor Gary Wood, it was announced Wednesday.

"WE HAVE a number of openings in sports, by mission calls, and other uncontrollable circumstances," said Wood, "and we must fill them immediately."

"Of primary importance is a genuine interest in sports," said Wood. "We would like people with experience, but this is not a prerequisite."

Sarfaraz Speaker At Forum

Thursday's Forum speaker will be Mohamed Sarfaraz, a member of the Pakistan Mission to the United States.

Sarfaraz has been closely associated with Mohammad Ali Jinnah, considered to be the father of Pakistan. He was one of the first Asians to realize the value of public relations for an emerging nation.

He has acted as secretary general of the Baghdad Pact, now CENTO, and was information director of the Bureau of National Reconstruction for the government of West Pakistan.

Obscenity Law Opposition Silent

Many were surprised earlier this week to find no opposition to the proposed obscenity law which was discussed at a public hearing Monday.

Some critical letters to the Editor have been received from students who had a hard time understanding what the petition being signed in the step-down lounge of the Wilkinson Center several weeks ago was attempting to support. But now that the smoke has cleared, it seems that there is overwhelming support for the proposed law.

Because of the many informal discussions that have been held, students have a greater understanding of law, procedure, and the variety of feelings that exist about the ordinance.

The new regulation is actually a youth protection ordinance for Utah County which of course, includes BYU. It has to do with movies and literature being broadly classified into two groups—those suitable for youth under the age of 19 and those unsuitable for such youth.

Sale of movie tickets or periodicals labeled unsuitable for youth under 19 would constitute a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $299 or six months in the county jail.

Many BYU students and faculty have taken an active roll in the drive for the law and should be commended. Of the total signatures on the petition 1,328 came from BYU students and the chairman of the Utah County Council for Better Movies and Literature is Eldin Ricks, BYU professor of Religion.

We feel that this proposed ordinance is a step in the right direction and from the notices it has received in surrounding areas it could perhaps not only be adopted in Utah County but also in other communities.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Reply To Kaesche

Editor Universe:

I wish to reply to William C. Kaesche III in the Tuesday Universe. It is not a new concept to control what the small businessman can sell. He is not permitted to sell heroin, marijuana, or opium. If a state decides that he should not, in the best interest of the citizens, be permitted to sell alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, switch-blade knives, pistols, or literature which unduly excites the libido to adolescents, the state has that right.

WHAT DO YOU mean by free interfere with the dissemination of anything to their yet immature children, which they believe to be detrimental to their optimum maturation.

The people who are supporting the presently recommended legislation know the futility of legislating the consumption of goods by adults. They are not yet willing to admit the futility of legislating the consumption of certain goods by adolescents and children.

WHAT DO YOU mean mob? This is no mob, but a dignified group of law-abiding citizens using their constitutional right of majority rule to secure protection for their children.

You are not in favor of anarchy are you? How unkind of you to say that these people would totally exterminate the "gentiles" on campus if enough signed the petition. We want the gentiles to come here. I myself will give of my time to preach the gospel to you if you will consent. Come learn of us. Maybe you will become converted. Peacefully and legally we seek to legislate for the good of minors.

WHY DO YOU insist on disturbing our motives and our quest? We have as much of a moral right to try to limit the sales of certain literature to our children as to limit the dumping of human bowel wastes into our culinary water system.

Freedom is a relative thing. Nobody can ever have complete freedom. This myth is anarchy, in which everyone is in constant fear and danger.

Insult To Leave

Dear Editor:

Concerning the Forum and Devotional assemblies, may I remind the students of what the Prophet Joseph Smith once stated: "It is an insult to a meeting for persons to leave just before its closes. If they must go out, then go out half an hour before. No gentleman will go out of a meeting just as it is closing."

Europe Flight Delayed; Students Wait 5 Hours

By Jim Wilson
Universe Staff Writer

Excitement and confusion described the scene that took place at the Salt Lake City airport this past Sunday evening as 146 Europe bound BYU students and their advisors waited five hours for their chartered plane to take off.

THE STUDENTS found plenty of time to say good-bye to families and friends as their plane was held up for several hours because of fueling difficulties.

The students were requested to meet at the airport no later than 11:00 p.m. However their special chartered plane did not leave the airport until after 4 a.m.

THE LARGE crowd of students was easily distinguished from other passengers as each student was loaded down with several overcoats, suitcases, books, cameras and other traveling gear.

As the night wore on, students were found to be leaning on one another and sleeping in the loading areas.

TYPICAL COMMENTS were those of Lesann Wilkies, a junior from Indianapolis, Ind., "I'm tired. I haven't been to bed for two weeks—with exams, dates and getting ready."

Torn between his friends, experiences at the Y and the excitement of France, Randle Prescott, a junior from Sunnyvale, Calif., exclaimed, "I don't wanna go!"

"I'M REALLY excited..." really!" commented Sammy Jones, a junior from Alhambra, Calif. "This is my second trip to France, and I hope to be able to use the language for missionary work," she continued.

"I don't care if we're here all night, we plan to watch that plane take off," was the stern comment of Mr. Gibson of Salt Lake City, whose daughter, Joyce, was leaving for France.

RICHARD WILSON, a junior from Moab, Utah, said that it was difficult to leave for Salzburg. He had just given his girl an engagement ring. She will remain home.

Half of the students in the group will study in Salzburg, Austria, and half in Grenoble, France.

THE STUDENTS will return to their homes in the spring, when the semester has terminated in Europe.

Modern Science Uses Art Of Glass Blowing

A centuries-old art that was important during the Israelites' captivity in Egypt is proving to be a valuable asset to modern researchers at BYU.

GLASS BLOWING, which many people erroneously consider to be a dying field, is being used to create specialized glass objects, not available commercially, for scientific experiments.

Oliver T. Zavoda, a refugee from the abortive 1956 Hungarian revolt, is a full time glass blower at BYU. He came to the United States three years ago from Canada, where he had been living following his escape and joined the BYU staff.

THERE ARE ONLY approximately 1000 skilled glass blowers in the United States today, Mr. Zavoda said, and most of these are from Europe. Mr. Zavoda learned the art as a boy in Hungary, where he attended a four-year school and gained practical experience.

Glass blowers melt silica, clear sand or quartz crystals at an intense temperature, and reshape it. Most use a gas flame because of its consistency of heat.

DECADES AGO artisans, blowing on glass tubes with their own breath, created bottles, vases, graceful glass animals and other ornaments, bangles, jewelry, and other objects limited only by their own imagination.

Mr. Zavoda, however, is given specific assignments by BYU scientists. He devises glass spiral tubes within tubes, series of glass chambers, flasks within flasks, and other objects with precise measurements necessary in carrying out advanced chemical and physical experiments.

WHEN ASKED how long it takes to become a skilled glass blower, Mr. Zavoda replied, "How long does it take to become a good violin player? It all depends on the amount of time and effort you put into it."

Mr. Zavoda observed that mechanization has given the American glass blower a "third hand," instead of having to hold and force air through the molten glass, the technician is free to shape with both hands, which leads to greater accuracy.

Oliver T. Zavoda, a glass blower at BYU, is shown shaping a piece of equipment for use in scientific research. He is one of only 1000 professional glass blowers in the United States today.

Grapplers Scalp Utes On Reservation Seek Repeat Triumph On Home Mat

By Gary Jacobson
Universe Sportswriter

BYU's wrestlers, with one Ute scalp on their belts taken during a semester-break raid on the Redskin wigwam, are preparing another hair-raising experience for the Utah grapplers who will invade the George Albert Smith Fieldhouse Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

THE COUGAR matmen, fresh from a 24-10 home mat victory over tough Oregon State Jan. 21, tomahawked the Utes 19-15 Jan. 23, in what BYU's head wrestling Coach Fred Davis termed, "a real thriller."

BYU's victory over the U of U was sweet revenge for Davis, whose only dual meet loss in his two years of coaching at BYU came at the hands of Utah, 16-13, last year in Salt Lake.

DAVIS HAS engineered his charges to a 17-1 dual meet record since his arrival, and this year's Y grapplers are undefeated in dual match competition sporting a 5-0 record.

The BYU-Utah encounter should be a real headline according to Davis, because both have probably their best teams ever. "This match could go either way," stated Davis. "Utah has a good, well-balanced team. Their greatest strength lies in their heavier weights, while we are stronger in the lighter weights," Davis added.

BOTH TEAMS have been played with injuries, so the difference will balance and the ability of reserve forces to plug holes.

Mike Terry, 122 lbs., a freshman from Orem, has come on strong for the Cougars in his last two matches with 12-8 and 14-11 victories over Oregon State and Utah, respectively, to relieve a great deal of Davis's worries.

Mac Motokawa, 137 lbs., and Mike Young, 145 lbs. will be looking for their 42nd consecutive dual match victory against the Utes tonight. Numbers 40 and 41 came rather easily for the Cougar phenoms against Oregon State and Utah last week.

THE PAIR pleased a partisan BYU crowd against Oregon State with 21-5 and 9-1 wins, respectively, and against Utah the "Yokohama Mauler" pinned the Stars' Chuck Kinney in the first period and Young decisively disassembled Toby Mercer, 12-3.

Dennis Herendeen, 152 lbs., had a good week against OSU and the U, winning 9-4 and 10-2.

STEVE EPPERSON, 160 lb. junior, came out on the short end of a 5-3 score in a match of time with the Utes' Carl Monahan. Blond Bomber from Oklahoma has established himself as a contender to be reckoned with, fashioned a 10-0 overall record, was undefeated in dual meets before the Utah loss.

Men, Women Match Folds In 'Mural Me

Entries are now being accepted for the intramural fencing tournament according to John Egan, Assistant Intramural Director.

BOTH MEN and women compete in the tournament. He said, but entries must be submitted to 112 Richard Physical Education Building before 5 p.m. Feb. 4.

Competition will get underway 10 a.m. Feb. 19 in 134 Rice Bldg.

The women winners will represent BYU in the annual Sports Feb. 26.

Runnin' Redskins Lead WAC But Cats Hold Statistical Edge

Although undefeated Utah leads Western Athletic Conference Basketball team standings after the third week of league play, Brigham Young and New Mexico are out in front in scoring and defense, respectively.

THE RUNNIN' REDSKINS have put together a balanced package performance in four conference contests for a 4-0 record to date. They have averaged 84.8 points per game, made 76.6 per cent of their free throws, hit 45.8 per cent of their field goal shots, and captured 49.3 caroms per game for a rebounding percentage of 55.6.

Although New Mexico (2-1) does not compete with the Utes in number of rebounds, the defense-minded Lobos lead the league in rebounding percentages, having pulled down 55.5 per cent of the dregs in a more deliberate, precision-style play. They also are tops in sharpshooting, scoring on 49.4 per cent of their field goal attempts.

BRIGHAM YOUNG (2-2) ranks in field goal percentages (.492), second in free throw percentages (.609), and fourth in both defense (83.8 points) and rebounding percentages (.489).

Wyoming (1-2) is second in team offense (85.0), third in rebounding percentages (.515), and fourth in both field goal and free throw percentages (.446 and .696). The Cowboys' penetrable defense so far is no better than sixth, however, allowing an average of 67.7 points per game.

Battle For WAC "Chips"...

Cagers Prep For Crucial

by Gary Wood
Associate Sports Editor

Cougar quintet gears for Saturday's crucial in Salt Lake City.

Saturday's vital Western Athletic Conference battle between arch foes BYU and Utah will probably be a duel "for all the chips," as Redskin Coach Jack Gardner has put it.

The Rumin' Redskins, 14-3 for the season and cruising along in the Conference lead with an unblemished record after four games, will take a giant step towards the title if they knock off the powerful Cougars, who sport a 2-2 league mark.

BYU, in rolling to an 11-3 overall record, is averaging 98.9 points per game, good enough for second place in the country, and the Cats' shooting percentage of 54 percent is unexcelled.

The Utes are shooting at a 48.7 clip in scoring 95.7 points per contest.

Since the Blue and White aggregation demolished Utah State, 115-81, on Jan. 22, Coach Stan Watts has given his charges a well-earned break.

The Smith Fieldhouse has been the scene of earnest preparations following Finals, however, as the Dick Nemelka continues to lead his mates in the scoring department as he boasts a 25.9 average for the season. In Conference action Nemelka is second to Arizona's Freddie Lewis, who is averaging 24.6 to the BYU guard's 24.0.

Also averaging better than ten points per game for BYU are Steve Kramer (18.6), Jeff Congdon (14.7), and Neil Roberts (10.1).

For the Utes, Jerry Chambers has been the outstanding player all season. The 6' 4", 190-lb. Redskin center is the leading scorer with 23.7 points per game and the top rebounder for Utah with 9.6 per contest.

Chambers thus far is making baskets at a 57.8 per cent pace, the best in the history.

Coach Gardner expects his cats-a-squad to be in good physical shape for the all-important tussle. Chambers and guard Rich Tute have been nursing injuries, but are ready to go. The televised contest will begin at 8:05 p.m.

M.S., Michigan State Univ.

Opportunity comes early at Ford Motor Company. Graduates who join us are often surprised at how quickly they receive personal assignments involving major responsibilities. This chance to demonstrate individual skills contrasts sharply with the experience of many young people entering the business world for the first time. At Ford Motor Company, for example, a graduate may initiate a project and carry it through to its final development. One who knows is David Tennison, of our research staff.

Dave joined Ford Motor Company in July, 1961. Assigned to our steering and controls section, he helped develop a revolutionary steering system that will facilitate driving in future Ford-built cars. Currently a design engineer working on suspension design and analysis, Dave has been impressed by the extent to which management encourages personal initiative among recent graduates like himself. Here, management looks immediately to young engineers, like Dave, for fresh concepts that reflect their academic training and special abilities. Moreover, when the idea is accepted for development, the initiator is frequently given the opportunity to see the job through—from drawing board to production line!

The experience of Dave Tennison is not unusual. Ford Motor Company believes that early incentive is fundamental to individual growth and a successful career. If you are interested in a job that challenges your abilities and rewards enterprise, we urge you to contact our representative when he visits your campus.

BYU Employees To Feel Tax Hike

BYU employees will be subjected to increased social security taxes now in effect announced Joseph T. Bentley, BYU controller. The new tax rate is 4.2 percent up to a maximum of 27.2 percent rather than the present 3.25 percent up to a maximum of 17.2 percent.

THE MAXIMUM tax must be paid only if the wages amount to at least $6,500 per year. In that case, the additional social security tax will be over $100 more than it was last year. BYU pays the same amount that employees pay to the Federal Government to provide the benefits available under this program.

If the net salary, after the sheltered annuity program is taken out, is less than $6,500, the social security contribution will be less than the maximum, said Bentley.

IN ADDITION to the above tax, the University also pays health insurance and other benefits, said Bentley.
